In the administration of trusts the superiority of a corporation like the INDI-ANA TRUST COMPANY over any individual trustee lies in many things.

The officers of such a company, selected because of their familiarity with such matters, can act more expeditions-ly, more prudently, and with greater economy in the cost of administration. Any individual trustee may be removed by death, and his trust before its completion pass into other hands. The circumstances of an individual are subject to changes-the changes of health, of business, of conditions that attach to the individual.

A corporation like the Indiana TRUST COMPANY, with a fixed place of business. a perpetual existence-and an existence alone for the purpose of the best management of affairs of this kind-presents the qualities most to be desired, and with which the best results are attainable.

The loan committee of the New York Clearing House has canceled $255,000 loan certificates, and $150,000 of certificates have been called for to-day. The total now outstanding is $32,180,000. Several of the banks made shipments of currency to the South, and the movement of money southward to move the cotton crop is assuming proportions. The flow of money to New York from the West and East is quite heavy, and represents liquidations of loans and discounts. The share speculation at New York, yesterday, was on a scale so small that the movement of the several stocks dealt in was without much significance. A majority of the Jewish brokers were away from the street, it being their day of atonement, but that fact was not to any appreciable extent responsible for the light volume of business, which is to be traced to the policy adopted by the large operators to hold sloof from the market until the uncertainty as to the fate of the repeal bill is removed. The market opened under the influence of unfavorable Washington advices, and the buyers of Tuesday afternoon became sellers, the consequence being a decline in the first figures and a gradual lowering of quotations. There were some few London orders to buy St. Paul, Reading, Union Pacific, Atchison and Eric, but not large enough to affect the prices, and Louisville & Nashville was sold to a small amount by London houses. It was not until near noon that the market rallied temporarily and for some time thereafter prices fluctuated fractionally from one side to another on room trading. Late in the afternoon the best prices of the day were made, but in the final dealings depression again characterized the trading, and the close was heavy. Sugar, Chicago Gas and St. Paul were the only stocks which moved with any degree of activity, and all three scored a decline on the day. The other leading declines are Edison Electric, 4; American Tobacco, 2; Canada Pacific, 14, and Union Pacific, 1 per cent. A majority of the stocks traded in, however, show an advance on Tuesday night's figures, including Pull-mar Palace, 2, and Louisville, New Albany & Chicago trust certificates, 1%. There | $28.50. The railroad bond market was irregular, different issues of the same road moving in opposite directions. Chesapeake & Ohio sixes rose 24, while the four-and-a-halfs declined I per cent. # LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

Trade Continues to Improve with the Wholesale Houses and Prices Are More Settled. Wholesale men report good business, and the last day or two prices have become steadier. Coffees and sugars are very firm. Sugars are very scarce, it being difficult for wholesale men to fill orders. Poultry is firmer, but no higher. Fruits and vegetables are in good supply and the demand is healthy in its character. The recent rains have improved trade with the seed

INCREASE IN WHEAT

Bradstreets Make a Report that Gives Bulls a Decided Scare.

The Leading Cereal Closes at a Loss but Corn Is in Demand, and Leaves Off Higher with Provisions.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.-Shorts who had profits in wheat became good buyers after a break to-day and were furtherencouraged in that direction when corn began to show recuperative energy toward the close. But the average for the session as a whole was decidedly weak. Bradstreet's struck a blow at the longs in making the following statement of the visible supply: "An increase of 1,496,000 bushels east of the Rockies and 537,000 west making a total increase for the country of 2,033,000 bushels." In addition to that was an increase affoat and in Europe of 3,440,000 bushels. Wheat, although it recovered 'se from its lowest price, was still to below yesterday's close, Corn left off with a net gain of 18@140. Provisions ruled firm until within a few minutes of the close, when there was a flop which left prices for the most lower than they closed yesterday. Wheat at the opening was about the same as the closing figures of yesterday and then prices advanced %c, became weak and declined 13sc, recovered as and closed steady. The rain in the winter wheat country, which is greatly needed to facilitate fall plowing and seeding, was a weakening feature, as was also the liberal movement in the Northwest. Cables were a little irregular, but generally lower, and the export cleardue to the weekly government report, which indicated late seeding. In corn the new deliveries were the weakest, there being some selling of September and buying of May. The market opened rather easy on the big receipts, and prices irregularly declined 120%c. Toward the end of the session the market felt the effect of some buying by N. B. Ream, and it took only a moderate amount of buying to create a scare among the scalpers who were short, and they bought sufficient to more than recover the previous decline. As corn declined oats followed, prices receding %c; but, later, as other grains showed strength, oats sympathized, and prices rallied to the ontside and closed steady. There was some changing from October to May, the former showing the most strength. Outside orders were scarce in the provision pit, and local operators, apparently disgusted with the unsatisfactory conditions existing, gave the market no sup ort. A nominal advance of 15@30c early on firm cables was all lost. The break in wheat contributed to the weakness. Vessel room was inquired for to a mod erate extent, and rates held at 1980 for wheat, and 12e for corn to Buffalo. Estimated receipts for to-morrow are: Wheat, 160 cars; corn, 660 cars; oats, 287 cars; hogs, Dry Goods. NEW YORK, Sept. 20. - The hesitation over the repeal of the Sherman law and a fear of a tariff discussion, if not actual changes, is once more leading to conservatism in the maunfacture and purchase of dry goods so that the volums of business is rather moderate. Traders ching to the belief that Congress will in the near future get the silver purchase law settled, but they have grave doubts as to the attitude of the present Congress respecting the tariff which are increased by the dilatory conduct of Congress respecting the Sherman law in the face of the well-known sentiment in business circles in favor of its repeal. with the Hebrew element taking a holiday a number of places of business have been closed, but a very fair aggregate is the result of the day's trading. Cotton goods have been selling quite well. There is a good business in indigo blues, mourning grays and Turkey reds. Ginghams and woven fabrics rule moderately active. Dress goods just about hold their own. Woolen and worsteds rule quiet, and foreign dry goods, if anything, show improve-ment without marked change in any direction.

Harvesting Apples and Pears,

Country Gentleman. A late writer says that he has lost a hundred barrels of choice apples in the course of his experience by not picking them in the right season, often deferring the work for his corn-cutting or potato-digging. There is no doubt that many orchardists lose a great deal by not gathering their apples in season, or else, on the other hand, by picking them too soon. If the orchard and its crop are valuable, many kinds of fruit are worth two seasons of picking. The first half is when they begin to drop from the tree; but there is another half or more, with some varieties, which adhere firmly and remain. If the gathering of these is deferred about two weeks, they will keep longer and be in better quality. It is not difficult to select the most mature first by their color, and they will readily loosen at the stem, while the others strongly adhere. The well-known rule for gathering pears when the fruit will readily separate from the tree when lifted half way up is an excellent rule, but there is usually less difference in the time of ripening than with apples. Pears which ripen early and in a medium season should always be gathered some days before ripe. Choice varieties may be packed in drawers or boxes, and will become more delicious at maturity than if ripened in the open air and on the tree. This is particularly important with early pears, and, wrapped in Hannel and allowed to remain some days, they will be greatly improved, and those which have a slight blush naturally will readen into real beauty when matured. Late autumn or winter varieties require rather less care and may be treated more like winter apples, but at the same time they should be carefully and well secured in a cool and uniform temperature.

Too Clean Children.

As to keeping children too clean for any mortal use, I don't suppose anything is more disastrons. The divine right to be gloriously dirty a large portion of the time. when dirt is a necessary consequence of direct, useful, friendly contact with all sorts of interesting helpful things, is too clear to be denied. The children who have to think of their clothes before playing with the dogs, digging in the sand helping the stablemen, working in the shed, building a bridge, or weening the garden, never get half their legitimate enjoyment out of life. And oh! unhappy fate, do not many of us have to bring up children without a vestige of a dog, or a sand-heap, or a stable, or a shed, or a book, or a garden! Conceive, if you can, a more difficult problem than giving a child his rights in a city flat. You may say that neither do we get ours; but bad as we are, we are always good enough to wish for our children the joys we miss ourselves. Thrice happy is the country child or the one who can spend a part of his young life among living things, near to nature's heart. How blessed is the little toddling thing, who can lie flat in the sunshine and drink in the beauty of the "green things growing:" who can live among the other little animals, his brothers and sisters in feathers and fur; who can put his hand in that of dear Mother Nature and learn his first baby lessons without any meddlesome middleman.

DAILY.

SUNDAY

WEEKLY

The Journal's price for daily is only 15 cents a week, and it has a very wide circulation, reaching a large number of people hitherto unable to afford the luxury of a first-class daily paper. Reports from agents and subscribers indicate a continued increase, and that what used to be regarded as a luxury has become a necessity. The new readers not only remain, but they are constantly increasing.

It is the purpose of the Journal to make itself even more indispensable to its patrons, new and old, and to still further widen its field. To this end it will not only endeavor to maintain the characteristics which have established its reputation as by far the best newspaper in Indiana, but will add such new features and improvements from time to time as are in accord with journalistic progress and that may tend to the advantage of its readers. It will, for example, give increased attention to State and local interests. What Indianians want is a paper in which Indiana affairs are given especial prominence andimportance. This want the Journal has always supplied as no other paper published outside or inside the State is able to do; but the rapidly developing industries and business and social enterprises of the community call for additional consideration and space, With this in view its corps of correspondents has been increased until it has a representative in nearly every town in the State Special traveling correspondents will visit the news centers of the State at frequent intervals, thus insuring the "write up" of every important event or matter of general interest.

Being published in the geographical center of Indiana the Journal is afforded unusual facilities for securing news promptly, and, what is of greater consequence, is able to reach its subscribers without delay. The ruuning of morning trains from Indianapolis is very favorable to the early distribution of papers sent by mail or express, and in most towns within a radius of a hundred miles Journals are delivered as early as in the city where they are printed. In the more remote counties there is but little loss of time in transportation. The Journal is the paper for Indianians and particularly for Indiana Republicans. The change of administration involves the settlement of political problems likely to be of the most direct personal concern to every farmer and business man in the State. All such matters will be set forth in detail, the Journal's Washington correspondent being instructed to give especial attention to every hing having a possible bearing on Indiana interests. But though the Journal is Republican in politics it is non-partisan in the publication of news. Its constantendeavor is to secure facts unbiased by prejudice and to make its columns trustworthy records of each day's happenings. A large editorial force supplements the work of the press associations and the correspondents, and furnishes careful supervision for each department.

The Sunday Journal has a well-established literary character, superior to that of any Western paper. It is not defaced by "plate matter" nor filled with a heterogeneous mass of syndicate literature, but its contributions and miscellany are chosen with a view to their special fitness and adaptability to the tastes of the readers. The reading matter in any given number of the Sunday Journal is equal in quantity and is not inferior in quality to that found in the leading magazines. As an educational adjunct and a source of entertainment the Sunday Journal is indispensable in every well-regulated family.

The Weekly Journal, at $1 per year, contains more reading matter than can be obtained for the money in any other shape. It is carefully edited and offers the news of the week in condensed shape and a variety of miscellany, agricultural and household literature that render it one of the best invest ments that any family can make. Try it and see. It has a large circulation in this and other States and agents find it an easy matter to secure large lists of subscribers. Special inducements offered to agents.
